FRANKFORT, OCTOBER 11, 1890.

Another Boat Gone.

Capt. W. T. Gaines has chartered the Steamer Lancaster to parties who will run her between Natchez and Vicksburg, on the Mississippi river, and has retired from steamboating.

Died in the Pen.

John M. Neaves, a convict sent to the Penitentiary for life from Bracken county for the murder of his father, an old man 70 years of age, died in that institution on Wednesday of heart disease. He had served only two years.

Dr. W. I. Kelley,

Of Cincinnati, will make his usual monthly visit to this city on Friday next, October 14th. He will be at the Capital Hotel on that day, where he can be found by those needing his services. Don't forget the date.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the Remedy for you. For sale by J. W. Gayle.

The Best.

That the best is not always the cheapest every one knows, but when anything contains more desirable features than any other, and at even a less cost, then indeed it may well be styled the best.

In speaking of the wonderful success of the Association he represents, Mr. Fuller, the general agent, says "one reason we are so well liked is because we do not misrepresent, we employ none but gentlemen to solicit business and instruct them to only make a plain business-like statement of the benefits to be derived as our patrons on finding that we do more for them than we give them reason to expect, become our greatest help in securing new business." Then again he continued, "everyone appreciates the advantage of handling his own money and being at liberty to make any settlement with his debtor that he cares to. In short, having full control of his accounts all the time, and the Association to furnish the force to bring about the results. The records, too, are of the greatest advantage as a member can get the experience of other dealers with those parties reported without any risk to himself, so you see that alone is sufficient to cause anyone to keep up his membership."

"Some people, when approached to become members, will say 'well we don't think accounts we can't get that you would have much effect onto such people.' I ask if they think we could have kept up for over eight years if we could not get accounts that ordinary means would fail to collect, and when we show positive evidence of open accounts from three to fifteen years collected with interest that usually causes them to fall in line."

"Well, I must say good bye and get to work. Say, when you are in Louisville call and see me you know my number, 730 Seventh St."

Have Finished.

Mr. Robert Choate, of the firm of Choate & Wakefield, of Frankfort, and their force of men, composed of Mr. E. M. Hansbrough, M. L. LeCompte, Clifford Young and Robert Breckinridge Baker, who had the contract for doing the inside carpenter's work for the Three Forks Investment Co's large and elegant hotel, finished their work last Saturday, and left Monday morning for their homes at the Capital City, after a three month's sojourn at this place. It can be easily seen by a glance at the work which this firm has just completed, that they work none but the best skilled men in their line of business. —Three Forks Enterprise.

LINCOLN'S MELANCHOLY.

His Sympathetic Nature and his Early Misfortune.

Those who saw much of Abraham Lincoln during the later years of his life were greatly impressed with the expression of profound melancholy his face always wore in repose.

Mr. Lincoln was of a peculiarly sympathetic and kindly nature. These strong characteristics influenced, very happily, as it proved, his entire political career. They would not seem, at first glance, to be efficient aids to political success; but in the peculiar emergency which Lincoln, in the providence of God, was called to meet, no vessel of common clay could possibly have been the "chosen of the Lord."

Those acquainted with him from boyhood knew that early griefs tinged his whole life with sadness. His partner in the grocery business at Salem was "Uncle" Billy Green, of Tallula, Ill., who used at night, when the customers were few, to hold the grammar while Lincoln recited his lessons.

It was to his sympathetic ear Lincoln told the story of his love for sweet Ann Rutledge; and he, in return, offered what comfort he could when poor Ann died, and Lincoln's great heart nearly broke.

"After Ann died," says "Uncle" Billy, "on stormy nights, when the wind blew the rain against the roof, Abe would set thar in the grocery, his elbows on his knees, his face in his hands, and the tears runnin' through his fingers. I hated to see him feel bad, an' I'd say, 'Abe don't cry,' an' he'd look up an' say 'I can't help it, Bill, the rain's a fallin' on her.'"

There are many who can sympathize with this overpowering grief, as they think of a lost loved one, when "the rain's a fallin' on her." What adds poignancy to the grief some time is the thought that the lost one might have been saved.

Fortunate, indeed, is William Johnson, of Corona, L. I., a builder, who writes June 28, 1890: "Last February on returning from church one night, my daughter complained of having a pain in her ankle. The pain gradually extended until her entire limb was swollen and very painful to the touch. We called a physician, who after careful examination, pronounced it disease of the kidneys of long standing. All we could do did not seem to benefit her until we tried Warner's Safe Cure; from the first she commenced to improve. When she commenced taking it she could not turn over in bed, and could just move her hands a little, but to-day she is as well as she ever was. I believe I owe the recovery of my daughter to its use."

C. H. BOGMAN, M. D.

The Eminent Specialist, formerly resident Physician of the Philadelphia General Hospital, Physician in charge of the Ohio Medical Institute, Cincinnati, Ohio, has for twenty five years successfully devoted his time to the treatment of his specialities. He successfully treats all curable cases of Chronic and Nervous Diseases. His treatment is based on the largest experience after thorough educational preparation.

Rheumatism is essentially a disease of the nervous system, as all late investigation proves beyond a doubt. Acting upon this theory we have for years treated it with phenomenal success. The deformities and heart affections resulting from rheumatic inflammations may all be avoided or cured by our treatment.

Bright's Disease of the Kidneys is the result of faulty nutrition, over stimulation, or the use of improper remedies to increase the flow of urine. Diseases of the Digestive Organs are the most frequent causes of the more fatal diseases. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Constipation, and Chronic Diarrhea, all result in imperfect nutrition, and render life miserable. Early interference is true economy of time, money and health.

Young Men, who are rapidly approaching insanity and death from scrophulous waste and debility, will find relief in the use of our medicine. These habits are the result of disease—not vice—and we cure each case without fail. We invite your fullest confidence and promise you relief.

Middle-Aged Men who observe certain irritations of the bladder and urethra or water passage, with sediments in the urine, should avail themselves of our treatment. Such symptoms are indications of chronic weakness which admit of no delay.

Every person consulting us should bring or send four to six ounces of their urine, which will be furnished the patient. We cure old cases which have baffled the skill of other physicians—Why? Because our own experience enables us to recognize the causes of disease. We invite all who have failed to obtain relief elsewhere to consult us. All curable cases guaranteed.

Patients treated by mail and express. Where possible personal consultation is preferable. All cases and correspondence strictly confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to part of the United States and Canada. Address with stamp for reply.
